

Everything We Need To Know About NATIONAL SECURITY We Can Learn From Our Kids!

Tell the Truth

When kids tell the truth, they remind us that telling all sides of every story is the way to be a well-respected world leader.

Choose Your Friends Wisely

Kids act like the crowd they hang with... so do world leaders.

Clean Up Your Own Mess

As kids take responsibility for themselves and the places they go, they show us how to make the world a better place for all.

Actions Speak Louder than Words

Kids know that what we do matters more than what we say...an important lesson in leadership.

Don't Give In To A Bully

If kids have the courage to ignore the schoolyard bully, then perhaps we can all rob the terrorists of their power by refusing to give in to fear.

You Could Be President Someday!

When kids participate in their school elections, they inspire us to be good citizens by using the ultimate power of our voice, especially through our vote!

illustrated by

KELLEY CUNNINGHAM

www.NationalSecurityMom.com

from the book "National Security Mom" written by

GINA M. BENNETT

W Wyatt-MacKenzie Publishing
DEADWOOD, OREGON
Text © 2008 Gina M. Bennett. Visit www.wyattmckenzie.com for ordering info.
Illustrations © 2008 Kelley Cunningham. Visit www.kelleysart.com.

Poster design by Nancy Cleary